KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS WELCOME WORLD WAR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

Armory Thronged to Do Honor to 175 Members of Kingston Council Returned From the War
—“America for Americans” the Theme of Judge Cunningham’s Address Urging Service
Men to Their Duty as Citizens.

If any of the 175 members of Kingston Council, Knights of Columbus, who took part in the world war, had in his mind a lingering doubt as to the high esteem in which he was held by the members of the council who were left back home, that doubt must have been dispelled by the reception given in the armory Monday evening. The 175 were there, and they must have thought that almost everybody else was there, for every seat that could be placed in the huge drill shed was occupied and there were a number standing. The serious part of the program was an address by Judge Cunningham, which was the most clear cut assertion and definition of Americanism and the part the war veteran must play in maintaining it that could be made. Judge Cunningham did not mince words nor obscure ideas by polite and vague language. There were no glittering generalities and fine sounding sentences that could be interpreted as meaning anything or nothing. Every sentence counted and could not be misunderstood.

With the 175 honor men seated at the ring side and the rest of the big armory drill shed filled with the members of the Knights of Columbus and their friends, Grand Knight Frank Flanagan welcomed the members of the council back to their home city after their months of service in the army and navy. A regulation roped ring had been erected on one side of the drill shed for the exhibition boxing bouts and directly in the rear was a stage from which the vaudeville acts were staged. Not a man who attended the entertainment came away feeling other than satisfied with the exhibition put on by the boxers, the vaudeville was snappy and new and the entire program went through without a hitch.

Grand Knight Flanagan, past Grand Knight John E. Mahar, chairman of the entertainment committee, Judge William D. Cunningham of Elmville and Edward Lundy of Esopus who was in France for some time as a Knights of Columbus secretary, occupied seats in the ring, from which the welcoming addresses were delivered. The program was opened with the singing of “America” after which Grand Knight Frank Flanagan, in behalf of the members of Kingston Council, No. 275, K. of C., in a few words bade the returned members welcome home after their service for their country. Mr. Flanagan said that the young men who had gone away to serve their country and the people of Kingston were proud of them. The 175 men who were the guests of the evening had gone away to fight for their country and the members who stayed home had backed them up, and one of the men who had always been active in this work was John E. Mahar, the chairman of the entertainment committee.

Mr. Mahar was met with a great reception. He said that the members had assembled at the armory to pay tribute to the men who had gone away when their services were needed by their country; they had assembled in honor of the men who had gone away and had completed their duty and had been returned to their home. Every member of Kingston Council welcomed them home. He spoke of the support given by those who stayed at home but had been busy doing their share to support the boys who went over; of the work done in Ulster county during the various campaigns, and how Ulster county each and every time went “over the top” and never failed to back up the boys who were in the army at home and on foreign soil. One of the men who had been active, he said, one man whom Ulster county was proud of, was Judge William D. Cunningham, the speaker of the evening, whom he introduced.

Judge Cunningham in his usual entertaining manner said that in all of his career he had never before been on the inside of the ring looking out, but he was willing to take on any man of any age or weight for 25 rounds—but to this he put a condition—and that was that “he” the speaker, the right of Ireland to freedom—with the lower jaw for weapons. Never have I been so proud of the Knights of Columbus as I have been during and since the war, said the speaker. For the order has translated into action the high-sounding phrases of its professions, just as you doughboys and cops have translated into action all that is best in your professions as Americans. I have noticed an undercurrent of dissatisfaction among some of you who think that while you were away doing your bit others at home were profiteering and that we do not appreciate you as we should. There is some justification for some of this feeling, but we do appreciate you and what you have done. The event is due to you and to the right perspective. Other men tell me that at the close of the Civil War there was the same condition, but it did not last long, and for 20 years the destinies of the nation. In like manner do we look to you to take your places in civil life and guide the destinies of our nation, safely, surely and with wisdom. Organize and unite for the preservation and guidance of our country in civil life. How any soldier or sailor can refrain from joining the American Legion is more than I can understand. In it lies our hope for the future. And the nation needs you, needs your knowledge, your loyalty, your experience.

You have seen Europe and you have come back to face conditions that did not exist when you went away. You have come back to find desperate attempts being made to array class against class. You hear of the proletariat and the bourgeoisie. You find an effort made by foreigners to divide our people into classes, one to rule the other. I have no fear of open Bolshevism, but the concealed and disguised efforts in that direction are to be guarded against. A nation under the rule of a class cannot stand, but just as disastrous is the tyranny of a great number of workers, radically organized and unwisely led.

There is another idea we must combat and that is the idea that is being preached to us that there is something mean, selfish, weak and low in acting and speaking as Americans before everything else; that we must be internationalists before we are Americans; that the United States owe something to France, England, Rumania, Belgium, Armenia or some other nation. We are constantly being told that we are in debt to somebody. We owe nothing. We owe a debt to France but we have paid it. It is our duty to teach Americans to think and act as Americans, to decide every policy and issue from the American point of view.

You men saw France and some of you saw British men and methods at close range. You know Europe to whom you trust the destinies of the American nation—to Americans or to those others? We are becoming too timid to say that we won the war, lest we offend some of the allies. General Haig is not so timid in saying that everybody else fell down, but the fact remains that after our men got on the fighting line there was never a backward step taken while up to that time there had scarcely been a forward step. It is time we asserted ourselves and thought for and of ourselves instead of merely allowing Europe to use us as a meat ticket. America must be for Americans. You fought for America, not to make the world free for any general principle. If we went into the war to make the world free, instead of because we were directly attacked, why did we not go in two years earlier? The Socialists, the doctrinaires and the sentimentalists must not be permitted to lead us astray. You men know the truth and it is for you to guide us.

The entertainment committee certainly had prepared a program full of features and headlines. The vaudeville was of exceptional quality and the boxing bouts were full of pep and ginger from the sound of the gong. If anything was lacking in science it was more than made up by all of the boxers being industrious and willing workers.

Music was furnished for the singing and between the acts by Balfe’s orchestra, which played some of the latest musical numbers, and added greatly to the enjoyment of the audience. The vaudeville was opened by Dorce and Leslie in a singing and dancing act which certainly was clever. Wesley and White in an Irish sketch, were repeatedly called out as was Grace Ames, who sang a number of songs. Bob Dale put life in the assemblage with a number of his own stories and songs and kept the crowd in an uproar with his “funny ones.” The act which brought down the house was the sketch by the three Debate brothers in a sketch “In Training.” With the two brothers both out for blood, they agreed to “have it out” and select the third brother as referee. After a classy demonstration in punching the bag, the two brothers went into the ring and put on the mitts for a three round battle to determine which is the better “man.” Although the boys are not more than 14 or 12 years old both have some class as boxers and put on a lively scrap, until the final “knockout.”

Between each act of vaudeville a regular exhibition bout was staged and although they were lively moving on the part of some of the boxers, Joseph Bratlin, “The man with the megaphone voice,” who could be heard from one corner of the big drill shed to the other, was an announcer. Thomas Wieden, a third man in the ring, was referee, with Eddie Cadin as timekeeper. Each of the boxers had a band of “seconds” who took care to see that

BRITISH FORCES OCCUPY ODESSA

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Sept. 30.—British forces have landed at Odessa and occupied the city, said a Central News dispatch from Vienna today, quoting advice received there from Budapest. (Odessa is the chief Ukrainian port on the Black Sea. At latest reports it was in possession of the Ukrainians, the Bolsheviks having been driven northward.)

STAND FOR FLORAL TRIBUTES

A flower stand has been erected on the sidewalk at the armory underneath the Honor Tablet of the boys from Ulster county who died in the service. Any of the relatives or friends of the boys whose names appear on the tablet are privileged to place flowers upon the stand as a tender and remembering tribute to their dear ones. Some of these boys are buried in France and their near ones have never had the opportunity to give expression to their feelings through the intimate language of flowers.

Those who take advantage of the opportunity may tag the flowers and thus indicate the particular boy remembered and by whom.

The first piece to be placed there was placed by Mayor Canfield in behalf of the city of Kingston and the flower piece bears the words, “Kingston Remembers.”

A New Corporation.

A charter has been granted by the Secretary of State to the Bachelot Medical Appliance Company Inc., with principal office at Kingston, N. Y. Capital stock $150,000. Directors, S. C. Schultz, Charles F. Dampf, Kingston; John Schulte, Highland.

nothing was lacking from a sponge and towels to the liniment bottle. Billie Van and Tommy Powers gave a four round exhibition bout, which proved to be fast and furious. Both boys weighed in at 105 pounds and put up a good exhibition.

Turk Kelly of Wappinger Falls Council and Willie Conners of Kingston Council, who both weighed in at 120 pounds, put up a lively scrap and furnished plenty of life during the encounter. Conners was caught off guard and went down for a second but was on his feet again in an instant.

Eddie Fitzsimmons, the leading contender for the lightweight championship title, who fights in Bridgeport this evening, put up a lively scrap with Ralph Foster of New York. Fitzsimmons, who made arrangements to fight in Kingston last evening, came to town at great inconvenience to himself in order to not disappoint the local people, although he must be in Bridgeport this evening.

The bout which had the people wondering was that in which Miss Helen Hildreth appeared with Frederick Atchison as her opponent. Miss Hildreth, who is the champion woman boxer, weighs in at 105 pounds. She put up a clever defence and the bout although not rough furnished a few stiff blows for both of the boxers.

The next bout was staged between Vincent Coffey, the local scrapper and Johnnie Palmer of New York city. Coffey has appeared a number of times in the local boxing circles and nothing need be said of his work, other than it was up to standard. The bout was a lively one, with plenty of close in fighting and quick action with Coffey literally using his head as much as he used his fists.

The last bout but the one which everyone was waiting for was that in which Jack Britton, the world champion writer weight, met Jim Montgomery, the champion welter weight of Ireland. Britton who has been ill for several weeks was not up to his usual form but as Announcer Bratlin said, “No man of Britton’s class could be persuaded not to box, even though his physician had advised him not to.”

Britton had boxed over 2,000 exhibition bouts for the benefit of soldiers and sailors and Montgomery has appeared in over 1,300 similar bouts. On account of Jack Britton’s illness the bout went only three rounds but there was plenty of action. First one man and then the other was forced to the ropes and a clinch in time saved many a nasty blow.

TROOPS GUARD RAILWAY TRAINS

Head of Railway Union Threatens Worst Industrial Crisis in History of England—Strike to Suppress News.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Sept. 30.—Troops were put on duty in the national railway strike this afternoon. Soldiers were posted about the railway stations and armed guards were placed in departing trains.

Attempts by strikers to wreck trains by altering signals failed, the government announced today. Premier Lloyd George and Sir Eric Geddes, minister of transport, claim that the situation has improved since yesterday.

J. H. Thomas, executive secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, in a speech at Clapham, threatened that 1,550,000 transport workers and coal miners may strike in sympathy with the railroad workers, paralyzing England. According to Thomas, the next 24 hours may see the worst industrial crisis in the industrial history of the nation.

The printers are now threatening to strike unless the newspapers temper their attitude of sharp hostility towards the railway men, it was learned this afternoon.

Official announcement was made this afternoon that the Amalgamated Association of Engineers (Locomotive Firemen) had decided not to strike, but they refuse to take over the work of the striking trainmen.

London, Sept. 30.—The prediction that the transport workers would strike today in sympathy with the railway strikers was made by the Central News. The transport workers’ organization forms one of the arms of labor’s powerful “triple alliance” and a walkout by this union would paralyze work in the ports.

Robert Smillie, head of the coal miners’ union, the second branch of the “triple alliance,” estimated in a statement made in Glasgow that the national rail tieup will throw ninety per cent of the coal miners into idleness within three days even if they do not join the strike. Already about 100,000 miners are idle.

Traffic on the railway lines in England, Scotland and Wales is stagnated but officials of the government claim that volunteers have offered their services in such numbers that better service probably would be given during the next 24 hours.

Premier Lloyd George is planning patriotic appeals to the mayors of cities and other civic heads to organize food relief services.

At the same time Sir Eric Geddes, minister of transport, expressed the opinion that the government would soon be able to establish “swift, through trains.”

There have been movements of soldiers and sailors, but so far no effort has been made to man trains with military men.

Efforts are being made by the strike leaders to extend the movement. According to the Daily News, the bus and street car operatives in London may be ordered out before night.

As a precautionary measure Sir Eric Geddes has removed some of the members of the Electrical Trade Union from the Chelsea power station filling their places with boys from the Westminster boys’ training school.

A new era for commercial aviation has been opened by the strike. Mails are being carried to France, Belgium and Holland while a regular passenger traffic has been opened to Paris. Mails were carried from this city to Paris in two hours against the old schedule of seven hours by train and boat.

So far, however, the French government has withheld permission for the delivery of mails from Paris by airplane.

General Sykes, controller general of civil flying, declared that, if it becomes necessary, he will call for volunteers among demobilized aviators to man machines.

Aviators are carrying confidential government dispatches to all parts of the United Kingdom while the porters are manning out mail routes to cover all districts of the British Isles.

Although Brighton reports that numerous railway strikers have returned to work, the press is still taking a pessimistic view of the strike and its effects.

“Among many there is the same sense of apprehensive bewilderment that followed news of the outbreak of war in 1914,” said the Manchester Guardian, the leading liberal newspaper outside of London. “The appeal to force has already begun. Granted there is sufficient determination, there is scarcely any length to which one side or the other may not feel compelled to go.”

TODAY’S SUMMARY OF STEEL STRIKE

The ninth day of the national steel strike showed little change in the situation generally, except for a continuation of gains by the operators in the Pittsburgh and western Pennsylvania districts. Their conditions are rapidly approaching normal at the principal plants, with more men returning to work.

The confidence of Wall street in the strike’s ineffectiveness, was apparent today when Crucible Steel rose to a new high level, and other steel stocks were steady with slight gains.

The extension of the strike to the Bethlehem plants apparently has had little effect on the situation generally. The plants continue operation, although some departments are crippled.

Elsewhere, in Cleveland Chicago and Wheeling, the situation is unchanged with plants for the most part idle.

At Waukegan Illinois, strikers have clashed with deputies and state authorities are ready to dispatch state troops to the scene if necessary.

AROUND THE MAP IN 25 HOURS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Boston, Mass., Sept. 30.—A one-day aeroplane trip around the world will soon be possible if the plans made by Bleriot and other French aviators develop successfully. Declared Lieutenant Commander A. C. Read, of the famous trans-Atlantic seaplane NC-4, in a speech here today with the aid of French inventions now being worked out at a speed of 1,000 miles an hour and an altitude of 60,000 feet could be maintained.

WOOD COMMANDS TROOPS IN OMAHA

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Omaha, Neb., Sept. 30.—Major General Leonard Wood, acting under orders from Secretary of War Baker, arrived in Omaha early today and immediately took command of military forces sent here by the government to suppress lawlessness and establish order after the riotous outbreak of Sunday night. Governor McKelvie also is in Omaha today to begin an investigation of the riots.

No outbreak of any kind has taken place since Sunday night. Predictions that there would be further rioting and bloodshed and that mobs were planning an attack upon negroes in their homes, have not been fulfilled.

Apparently the military is in complete control of the situation.

Although the city is quiet, machine guns command every important street intersection today and machine guns mounted on trucks are in readiness for instant use if needed. The city hall, opposite the court house, where the rioting centered, has been turned into a temporary arsenal, where weapons and ammunition of the federal troops is stored.

Floating above the city are army balloons from which lookouts are watching all parts of the city to spot incendiary fires or other signs of violence. Throughout last night searchlights were played over the negro district.

The 700 federal soldiers from Fort Omaha and Crook were augmented today by the arrival of 500 soldiers from Camp Grant. Additional troops from Camp Funston are expected here today and by night it is expected Major General Wood will have at least 1,500 soldiers on duty in Omaha.

Mayor Ed. P. Smith, who narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of the mob when he refused to turn over to them the negro prisoner, William Brown, who later was taken from the sheriff and lynched by the mob, is still confined to the Ford Hospital, but is recovering. Physicians said today that there is now no danger of the mayor’s injuries proving fatal.

Fearing that further attempts might be made to harm negro prisoners in the county jail, the authorities have removed all colored prisoners to the state penitentiary at Lincoln.

With the probability of further violence greatly lessened, city and state authorities turned their attention today to plans for the punishment of those guilty of participation in Sunday’s reign of terror. It is likely that state charges, including arson and assault to do bodily harm, will be lodged against many members of the mob.

Fire Commissioners Meet.

The board of fire commissioners held a regular monthly meeting at their rooms in Central Fire Station, Monday evening. Routine business only was transacted, as the commissioners were desirous of attending the welcoming entertainment at the armory given by the Knights of Columbus to the returning soldiers and sailors who are Knights. The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

Coal Dealers To Celebrate.

There will be no coal delivered in Kingston Wednesday as the coal companies in order to save their employees the opportunity to join in the Welcome Home Day celebration will remain closed all day.

STRIKERS TRY WRECK TRAINS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Sept. 30.—An attempt to wreck trains in the railway strike was reported in an official statement given out at the premier’s official residence in Downing street today.

“Some minor acts of sabotage were reported,” the announcement said. “The railway service is improving.”

The text of the official communique follows: “Railway service is improving. Yesterday’s schedules prepared by the railway companies is now exceeded.”

“There was one case during the night where red and green signals were altered. Fortunately there was no loss of life.”

“The distribution of food continues satisfactory, largely due to the spirit of volunteer workers.”

The following official statement was given out by the ministry of transport.

“The railway services are much improved. Numbers of men are reporting for duty all over the country. The bus and tramway workers may strike but if they do the government is empowered to commandeer the lines.”

STRIKE RIOTS IN WAUKEGAN

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Chicago, Sept. 30.—Authorities of Waukegan, the north shore suburb, where the plant of the American Steel and Wire Company is located, are holding themselves in readiness today to call for troops to suppress disorder if the present threatening aspect of the strike of steel workers there results in further outbreaks. Adjutant General Dickson, of the Illinois national guard, is prepared to dispatch troops at once if they are needed.

The action of the Waukegan authorities will be determined by developments which may follow today in the wake of an outbreak late yesterday when 2,000 strikers attacked 300 special deputy sheriffs.

Most of them are business men of Waukegan, who were stationed at the American Steel and Wire Company, to protect non-union men as they left the factory after their days work.

The strikers attacked them with stones, tore their badges off and threatened them with further violence if they returned.

Estimates today are that about 2,500 men are working in the Gary mills. This is about one fourth of the usual complement of the plants.

About the same ratio prevails, is reported, in the mills at Hammond, South Chicago and Indiana Harbor.

SILVIA WINS AT BINGHAMTON FAIR

Silvia, 2:15 1/4, won the 2:19 trot for a purse of $500 at the Binghamton fair on Friday, September 27, in straight heats. This is three straight victories in $500 purses for Silviana. He was second at Cairo, N. Y., second at Hudson Falls, N. Y., also a $500 race, third at Walton, N. Y., first at Delhi, N. Y. Silvia races at Bloomsburg, Pa. this week at York, Pa. the following week, Hagerstown, Md., the next week, Frederick, Md., next and then goes to North Carolina for two weeks. Owned and driven by Percy Brink of Stone Ridge, N. Y., he is the fastest trotter owned in Ulster county that races on the half mile tracks. He is a small horse, only weighs 725 pounds and has shown he can trot in 2:19 on a half mile track.

RED CROSS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

There was a special meeting of the executive committee of the Ulster County Chapter of the Red Cross held last evening at the court house, the chairman, Judge G. D. H. Hasbrouck, presiding. The committee elected Frank Cockendall, chairman of the coming membership drive, which will be held the country over, from November 2nd to 11th, and which will be carried on as former membership drives have been carried on. Mr. Cockendall was empowered to appoint a vice-chairman to assist him in the drive.

Charges Are Denied.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Sharon, Pa., Sept. 30.—Fifteen of the prominent residents of Sharon joined today in making and sending affidavits to Senator Kenyon at Washington denying strikers’ claims that the state constabulary here is brutally handling steel workers who went out on strike. The troops were new recruits, the affidavits said to suppress disorder and bring about a return toward control of the local authorities.

WELCOME HOME DAY EVENTS

Brief Resume of What Is Scheduled To Occur Wednesday—Parade In Morning, Athletic Meet In Afternoon, Dance In Evening.

Parade forms on Hasbrouck avenue and the Strand at 10:30 o’clock Wednesday morning, and starts promptly at 11 o’clock.

The line of march will be from East Strand to Broadway, to Albany avenue, to Clinton avenue, to Main street, to Fair street, to North Front street, to Wall street, to Malden Lane, to Broadway, to state armory where the parade will be dismissed except the bands, soldiers, sailors and marines, who will proceed into the armory for dinner.

That afternoon at 2 o’clock the big athletic meet for service men will be held at Forsyth Park.

In the evening the service men will be the guests at a dance in the state armory.

That in brief is the program for one of the biggest days in Kingston’s history.

Lieutenant Bertram B. Tate, who was formerly flying instructor in Carruthers Field, Fort Worth, Texas, and at San Diego, California, will drop flowers from the air on the parade as it passes up Broadway. He will also give an exhibition in flying at Forsyth Park that afternoon.

Three G. S. destroyers are expected to arrive in Kingston and berth off Kingston Point some time today, to take part in Wednesday’s festivities.

35 LIQUOR TAX CERTIFICATES OUT

Liquor dealers are getting game and most of them have become real sports as they are taking out liquor tax certificates for the period of four months for which the state is issuing them through the county treasurer. Up to noon today about 35 liquor tax certificates mostly saloons at $333.33 each, were issued to city dealers out of the forty-eight last year and it is thought that they all will be in by tonight.

The Hotel Stuyvesant, which turned in its certificate on August 1st, renewed its application and will receive a certificate, and Joseph A. Johnson, who has a saloon on Thomas street, has taken out a certificate for the saloon at 53 North Front street, formerly kept by James Cuniffe, who turned in his certificate on July 1st. The Johnson saloon on Thomas street will be run by an out of town man, it is said, who will take out a certificate later today. At Sauger’s the Exchange Hotel, the liquor tax certificate, which was surrendered by Wally Renner, who gave up conducting the hotel about August 1st, will be run by Charles H. Bennett, a former proprietor, who has taken out a certificate.

Dealers in liquor in this city were greatly interested in a special telegraph news item, printed in an Albany morning paper today, which under a New York date was as follows:

“Demobilization will be proclaimed by President Wilson, and the war time ban on intoxicants will be lifted in seven days. New York liquor dealers have been informed. It was said here tonight. Huge quantities of whisky are arriving daily at the bonded warehouses, and distillers, wholesalers, cafes and hotels, acting on this advice, are preparing for a huge business.”

NEGRO LYNCHED IN ALABAMA

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 30.—Will Temple, a negro, charged with shooting Patrolman J. B. Barlow, whom the officer attempted to quell a disturbance in the negro section, was taken from his bed in the Hale infirmary early today by a party of six men and lynched. The negro had been wounded in a pistol battle with Patrolman Barlow.

The lynching of Temple followed the slaying late yesterday of Robert Crocker and Rufus Puffer, two negroes accused of attacks on white women.

Crocker and Puffer were taken from an automobile at Hughes Ferry after they had been committed to the circuit court for a preliminary hearing, by a mob of fifty masked men and their bodies ridged with bullets. Crocker lived five hours, the mob leaving him lying on the ground in a dying condition.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE TOWN

The Sugar Famine Seems to be Here to Stay—It's All Right to Urge Housewives to Can, but Getting the Sweetener is Another Question.

"When is the sugar famine going to end?" asked the busy barber as the customer entered the shop. "I did not know there was one," replied the customer in a surprised tone.

"I might have known better than ask a single man such a question," said the barber, "but for your information it might be well to say that there has been and there is still a sugar shortage here, and housewives are limited in the amount they can buy."

"That's funny," said the customer, "the government has been urging the women to can all they can." "And then forgetting that sugar is needed to make it a success," retorted the barber, "the great trouble with our country seems to be due to the fact that lately we have adopted the motto serve others first."

"Well, that is what we entered the world for," interrupted the customer. "Yes," replied the barber, "and after winning the war, all we got out of it was the league of nations and high cost of living, and a lot of us don't think so much of the league anyway."

"Well, according to our esteemed president," said the customer, "we did not enter the war for gain or profit."

"And that is about right," replied the barber, "but believe me I am getting tired of hearing some one spout about our debt to the other nations of the world. As a matter of fact whatever debts we owed and paid and more than paid."

"I guess we paid all right," said the customer. "And another thing," continued the barber, "after loaning them billions of money, we are now shipping them food. No one objects to that, but first we should have enough to supply home consumption, and if there is a surplus, then ship it over."

"You hadn't ought to talk like that about the league of nations, and the way we have been using the other nations," said the customer, "for President Wilson says if we reject the league it will break the great heart of the world."

"To my way of thinking," retorted the barber, "the only thing that is liable to break the great heart of the world would be the refusal to loan them any more money and shutting off on the supply of food."

"There may be something in that," commented the customer. "America first is my motto," replied the barber, "and if we observed that rule the wife would not have me chasing all over town trying to scrape up enough sugar to do up some fruit for the winter."

WILSON PASSED RESTFUL NIGHT

First Since His Break Down Last Friday, and Is Reported to be Improving—Must Continue to Rest.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Sept. 30.—"The president had a good night's rest and is improving."

This official bulletin issued today by Admiral C. G. Grayson, was the second within twelve hours that told of an improvement in President Wilson's condition and the admiral was manifestly pleased with the progress his patient is making.

It is understood that last night was the first time the president had any sleep that was refreshing since his break down last Friday. As a result he was up in his room early today, and was reported to be greatly refreshed. Dr. Grayson believes that with a few more nights of good sleep, and with perfect rest and as much fresh air as he can get, the president soon will start regaining his lost energy.

Dr. Grayson's program of absolute rest and quiet for a few days will be strictly adhered to despite Mr. Wilson's desire to resume the fight for the treaty and league of nations. Thus far the president has responded gracefully to Grayson's demand for quiet and the White House since the president's return has been kept free from visitors.

Expressions of regret and flowers have been received in great numbers, but the president personally is in retreat.

It was said in White House circles that administration leaders do not fear that any reservations so drastic as to send the treaty back will be adopted, and it was reiterated that President Wilson's position is not in opposition to "clarifying reservations." The stand was taken that if opponents of the treaty had enough votes to defeat it, they would endeavor to bring it to a vote at the earliest possible moment.

MINERS DEMAND A NEW SCALE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 30.—President J. L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, put a definite proposition up for action at the conference of workers and operators today and thereby opened the way out of the deadlock caused by the operators' tentative refusal of the demands made by the men. Mr. Lewis put before the meeting a motion that the Washington conference agreement now in effect officially terminate October 31. The workers have demanded the new scale for November 1.

The statement of the miners is, in part, as follows:

"There is no question but what the miners' committee is fully empowered to negotiate with the operators and is here for that purpose. This fact was brought out clearly in the Cleveland convention.

"The question as to whether the Washington agreement can be or should be terminated, is open to debate. It is now eleven months since the last gun was fired in the war and hostilities came to an end, and since that time the country has been getting back to a peace basis as rapidly as possible, and every one has made a desperate effort to get away from war conditions.

"The Washington agreement was purely a war measure and it so stated in its provisions, because it said the agreement was to run 'for the duration of the war, and not longer than two years from April 1st, 1918.' The United Mine Workers point with much pride to the fact that they lived up to every condition of the Washington agreement, but they insist that now since the war is over a new contract should be made containing terms to meet present industrial and economic conditions, which are different from those that existed during the war."

FEAR RACE RIOTS IN KNOXVILLE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 30.—Precautions are being taken here today to guard against outbreaks that are feared when the trial of Maurice Mayes, a negro, begins before Judge Nelson tomorrow.

Judge Nelson has issued orders that doors of the court room shall be locked as soon as all seats are filled. Guards will be stationed at strategic points inside and outside the court room.

Mayes is to be tried for the slaying of Mrs. Berne Lindsay, white, who was shot to death after an attempted assault upon her on August 30 last. A mob stormed the jail in an attempt to lynch Mayes but officers had removed the prisoner to Chattanooga.

COSSACKS GOT TWO AMERICANS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The capture and subsequent release by Cossacks of two American soldiers—an officer and an enlisted man—in the vicinity of Vladivostok has been reported to the war department by Major General William S. Graves, in charge of the American forces in Siberia. Secretary Baker stated this afternoon.

It was stated the officer escaped while the enlisted man was being flogged and that the former, returning to his command, organized a force to return to the rescue of his companion. This force, according to an unofficial report, was hated by a Japanese officer, who is alleged to have told the Americans that if they persisted in attacking the Cossacks, the Japanese would interfere. The Japanese was then reported to have told Americans where they could find the captive. As to these details, however, Secretary Baker said he had no report. He said that if subsequent dispatches from General Graves should bear them out, an apology from the Russian forces doubtless would be demanded.

WELCOME HOME CELEBRATION!

German Clergy Still Talk of Day of Triumph In Store for the Fatherland.

The Glasgow Herald prints from a special correspondent some interesting information regarding the views of the German churches on the peace treaty.

What, asked the writer, in the guidance offered by the churches at this crisis in the affairs of the nation? We are in no doubt as to its character. In the Kreuz Zeitung recently Doctor Conrad, one of the ex-kaiser's chaplains, wrote a homily on the attitude which religious men should adopt toward the peace which is being "dictated to Germany." He wrote: "Possess your souls and do not despair. God in his good time will turn our sorrows into joy. Is there a German man with the fear of God in his heart who does not realize that this humiliation is but for a time and that before long the drama of the new fashioning of the earth will begin again? When that time comes Germany will rise supreme from the fire of her trials. It was in 1870-71 that began it; that was the prelude; we are now at the close of the second act. The coming third act will give us our final place and God will be with us. All I can counsel is this: Be patient. Our hour is coming. Certainly, sign the peace, for this will give us the breathing time we require and also time for reflection."

In the Kirchen Anzeiger there is a sermon by Stadt-Pfarrer Brockhaus, headed "What is Now Our Duty?" the preacher after denouncing "the cruel and incredible terms" of the treaty, goes on: "There is a revenge which is holy and consoles all those who mourn it in their hearts. We cannot sit down under the awful humiliation. But we must wait God's time. We must wait for him to dictate our course. He who led the German people from weakness to strength, he who once blessed our efforts in our world mission is punishing us now for our sin, but he has great work for us yet and he will see that we yet stand on the necks of our adversaries." All through these ominous exhortations with the peace and the present situation generally the German clergy continuously exhort their flock to be patient, to be confident, "in the days of tribulation. In a perfunctory sort of way they acknowledge that tribulation has come upon a people because of their sins and shortcomings, but the sins and shortcomings have nothing to do with the guilt of causing the war or with the inexcusable crimes committed by Germany in the four years of its domination."

Amethyst Once Highly Prized.

On account of its fine color, play of light and capacity for polish, the amethyst once held a high rank as a decorative stone, perhaps next to the sapphire, but by reason of the discovery of large quantities in Brazil its popularity declined in Europe and consequently its commercial value declined in corresponding ratio.

Of all the quartz varieties the amethyst has been the most highly valued, and the most frequently used for the art of engraving. The deep shades are less brilliant and the reason the artists of antiquity preferred the lighter shades. Consequently the ancient intaglio occur almost invariably on the light-colored specimens so that engravings on the dark shade may be suspected as modern.

But some of the specimens of Egyptian, Etruscan and Roman engravings on amethysts are so excellent that they may be mistaken for the gem bearing the likeness of the Emperor Trajan, captured by Napoleon when he conquered France in 1800; a bust of Antonia, daughter of Mark Antony; the head of a Syrian King, which is or was in the Feltz collection, and a superb engraving of Dioscorides, now in the national library in Paris.

Nine Months on Watch.

A naval man, home on leave, was discussing Lord Jellicoe's tribute to a sailor who fought at Jutland, and he remarked what seems to the lower deck the highest form of heroism.

It was not the fighting, not the arduous watching day and night—that is what a naval man is there for, he observed.

"The best 12 years in the navy, but if you'd ever told me before the war that I should ever have lived for nine months on board ship without a break, I should have dropped dead!" he said. "But I've just done it," he said.—London Chronicle.

WHY Hun Advance Was Halted by U. S. Marines

The Germans made a great mistake in prejudging the possible effectiveness of American rifle fire Robert G. Sherrett, in Leslie's, writes. They had learned from experience that French and English troops generally used their small arms only when within a range of 200 yards. It took our marines to teach them what the rifle could do at 1,000 yards and less. Two regiments of them at Chateau-Thierry smashed the best of the Kaiser's soldiers and halted for all time the confident thrust of a greatly superior force. The Tenth advanced in smooth columns and pushed determinedly forward across a waving wheat field bent upon overcoming Hill 165, which was held by our sea soldiers.

The marines, trained to keen observation upon the rifle range—nearly all of them wearing a marksman's badge or, better, the emblem of the sharpshooter—did not wait for the gray-coated masses to come closer. With deliberateness those sea soldiers set their sights and aimed their pieces with the same intent to score that they had shown in the calm periods of their practice upon the rifle ranges at Paris Island, Mare Island, Quantico and elsewhere. Without cease, their rifles snapped, and following their fire came the support of artillery. Machine guns ground out their grim torrent of bullets, adding to the toll exacted by the riflemen. Caught in a bewildering storm of scattering shrapnel, machine-gun fire and the amazingly accurate leaden hail from our rifles, the Germans realized that a further advance meant suicide. Their lines hesitated, stopped and then broke desperately for cover, while the marines savagely raked the woods and ravines to which the Tenth had fled. This effectively ended any hope on the part of the foe that they might make further progress by infiltration.

RUBBER FROM RABBIT BRUSH

How New Source of Supply May Soon Be Secured—Result of Wartime Experiments.

Recent experiments by two Western university professors have shown that rabbit brush is a probable commercial source of rubber. The investigation so far reported is only a preliminary quantitative examination, begun quietly some months ago as a war measure, but continued to prevent vitalizing valuable information partly developed.

It has not yet been announced to be commercially profitable, though in Utah alone there is said to be between 500 and 1,000 square miles of the brush, and a great deal more land that could be made to grow the plant. It grows artificially by planting and cultivation, without irrigation. In average Utah weather conditions, a harvest could be taken every four or five years, at a light expense for seedling and harvesting.

Under irrigation the yield could probably be increased fourfold. It is estimated. The quantity of rubber in the plant seems to vary directly with the amount of alkali in the soil, up to a certain limit; thus the less value the soil is for agricultural purposes, the more valuable for producing rubber.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

How Airplane Can Be Employed.

Lookouts in a very broken country, cut up by deep canyons or where mountain ridges obstruct the view, or in a flat country that affords no good points of vantage, are often unable to pick up all fires quickly by the rising smoke, or to locate them accurately. For greater location the system in use depends on triangulation through reports telephoned from separate observation points. Airplanes would use wireless in reporting fires, as they have done in communicating with the artillery, and would locate fires by coordinates in the same way that gunfire is directed to a particular spot or object.

From the army standpoint, the use of aircraft in protecting the national forests affords a valuable opportunity for training fliers and developing further the possibilities of aircraft and the art of flying.

Persian Dervishes Demand Alms as a Right, and Simple People Readily Give Up.

A feature of Persian life which illustrates the simple and superstitious nature of the people of the mid-east is their tolerance of the dervishes. These weird, graylike beggars infest the cities and annoy the village folk in passing from one place to another, according to their vows of itinerancy.

These are not the whirling dervishes of circus fame. Whirling would be too energetic a form of worship for the members of this most ancient leisure class. Their greatest exertion consists of walking slowly and bowing a knee to announce their presence.

The dervish of Persia is known by his bearing bowl, conical cap, animal skin cape and club. The weapon, which is usually a stick driven through with nails, is carried conspicuously. It fact, it seems unpleasantly ready for use when its owner calmly demands tribute. It is true that there is small danger of its use, even if alms are refused, but a refusal now, ever polite and apologetic, is sure to arouse the wrath of the dervish. His vocabulary may be unimpressive, but the meaning of his threats and prophecies is usually understood. Follow citizens of the dervish tribe prefer to make a gift at any cost in order to avoid having the wrath of heaven called down upon them in the mastery language of an experienced dervish invoker.

KINGSTON, N. Y., SEPT. 30, 1919.

At all events D'Annunzio has made sure of a place in history as well as in literature. The most famous of living poets heading a sort of Jamieson raid is a spectacle not soon to be forgotten.

Senator Sherman complains that he can not afford an automobile on his salary. But the United States Senate is not likely to join the Federation of Labor in order to be able to draw wages and strike to force them up higher.

Carlisle lauded the man who "sings at his work" and spoke slightly of him who toiled in "silent sullenness," showing that hatred of work is not a new phenomenon. The difference is that now it is organized as the L. W. W. Bolshevism and the like.

The impression throughout the state seems to be that any Republican who can read and write can be elected this fall to anything which is within the gift of the people. And this feeling, which is confident, has grown up in practically six months. When it comes to administrative responsibility the Democratic party should sublet the contract. Its platforms of recent years should have been printed in the dream book.

"Shouting" negroes, even with drums and tambourines assisting their lung effort, are well enough in the country where the church is isolated, but such clamor in the small hours of the night is quite another matter in crowded New York. It is but mildly surprising to read that the pastor of Pentecostal Church (negro) in East 131st street has been arrested on a charge of "conducting a public nuisance."

Women of the state are organizing to repeal some of the laws which were enacted in behalf of women last winter. This is the best proof of what Speaker Sweet said as regards the danger of hasty and half-baked legislation. Still a few women, woefully inexperienced, wanted to run the legislature and because they were not permitted to usurp the powers of that branch of the state government the same few would like to see some of the assemblymen deposed. Apparently those who voted against some of the bills are more entitled to re-election than they would have been had they shown that they were swayed by emotion rather than common sense.

Parlor Socialists and Bolsheviks who go about spouting their dish-water and dynamite combination of "idealism" will find little to agree with in Judge Cunningham's address delivered at the Knights of Columbus welcome Monday evening but real Americans will cordially endorse the sentiments expressed by the speaker. We should have more speakers of the same kind—men who are not afraid or ashamed to be Americans first and to stand firmly on the platform of America for Americans, a principle from which we have departed a long way, if some of those most in the public eye really represent anything but their own wispy ideas.

MILWAUKEE AND ALBERT.

Berlin would not tolerate a visit from King Albert of Belgium and neither will Milwaukee, a city now renowned less for even its beer, its socialism and its Berger, than for its pro-Germanism and disloyalty. It is not surprising to hear that the Mayor of Milwaukee, in response to the suggestion that it might be good business to induce the Belgian King and Queen to visit that city, indignantly objected and concluded his heated remarks with—"I stand for the man who works. To hell with the kings!"

How King Albert would smile on hearing this! No Mayor of Milwaukee, no Bolshevik, no L. W. W., no ordinary honest business man even, ever dreamed of working as King Albert worked for more than four years to get the predatory Prussians beat out of Belgium. The notion of unlettered reaction that there is no "work" except that which is done with the hands is not what troubles the mind of the Mayor of Milwaukee. What he is thinking of is the fact that he owns his election to people who wanted Germany to win and who are bitterly disappointed because Germany was beaten. A visit of the King and Queen of hoof-trampled Belgium would offend the dominant public sentiment of Milwaukee, the most "German" of American cities.

NATURE'S BEAUTY IN FALL ATTIRE

Attractions in Our Own Peerless Playground as Set Forth in Lake Mohonk Publication.

These are the days of the countryside—days when one wishes to be constantly out of doors. Fine autumn weather is bringing a foretaste of October skies—as a sample of which, by the way, we hope no one missed that sunset Tuesday evening, says the Lake Mohonk Bulletin.

It is but a natural result of these conditions that the livery (both horse and automobile) is feeling the pressure that always accompanies ideal times for driving and the saddle. The safe way is to book early for excursions. With sufficient notice, the livery will strive to provide for all.

A wonderful outing just now is the motor tour of the Catskills. A leisurely trip of about a hundred miles includes the Ashokan dam and Twilight Park, while the world-famed view from the Catskill Mountain House may be added, with glimpses of the Kaaterskill and other mammoth houses of that region. Of course, however, it is the trip itself and more particularly the foliage that appeals most at this time. The leaves turn earlier in the Catskills than they do at Mohonk, and already those vast forest stretches overlooked as the car climbs higher and higher up the gorge are ablaze with fall tints.

The big Ashokan dam—a whole or half-day trip—is always a center of attraction from its natural beauty and from its interest as the source of New York city's water supply.

Yama Farms, that thoroughly unique inn at Napanoch, offers a goal for either a half or a full day.

West Point, a longer trip, always attracts those from a distance who have never visited that most interesting institution.

These are but a few of the worthwhile motor trips, not to mention the possibilities of saddle and carriage on the Mohonk estate and the surrounding region, including Lakes Minnewaska and Awosting.

Don't forget to carry lunch on the all-day trips. An occasional resort hotel may still be open but it's safer not to count on it. Besides, the picnic lunch adds a lot to a fine outing.

300,000 Maxwells Precede This Post-War Car

FOR five years the talent of great engineers was devoted to the Maxwell chassis, and as that is now a work of rare mechanical excellence through magnificent Post-War improvements, the Maxwell has been improved wonderfully in appearance.

But you did not know, unless you sat behind the wheel, how easy it drives, what a comfortable casting effect there is in the front axle, how snugly it clings to the road with its heavy rear axle, how decisive and sure is the emergency brake, now located on the transmission shaft!

Unless you have sat behind the wheel of the Post-War Maxwell you know but little, for there is a new lure about this car that, once experienced, impresses you beyond words.

There are 300,000 Maxwells before this—all able cars. This is greater in many ways except in price—only $985 f. o. b. Detroit.

Perhaps you have seen this Post-War Maxwell and, like so many others, have stopped short in your hurry and given it a good looking over. Its simply beauty, its delightful grace, its clean cut, sincere appearance, its daring simplicity you noted, and your respect for Maxwell became more definite.

Natural Enemies of Mosquitoes

Dr. L. O. Howard, chief of the United States bureau of entomology, writing on his favorite theme, the mosquito, in a recent bulletin reviews the subject of the natural enemies of this insect. Among them he mentions the common goldfish and silverfish, which destroy mosquito larvae and should be put in artificial ponds. Topminnows are great feeders on mosquito larvae, and certain species introduced from Texas and Hawaii have proved their value, while a small blue-gill, of the genus Girardinus, known in Barbados as "millions," has been used successfully in other West Indian islands. Many predatory aquatic insects feed on mosquito larvae. Certain birds prey upon the adults, and bats also eat them. Many plants are popularly believed to keep away mosquitoes, among them being several species of conifers, the castor oil plant, the chrysanthemum, etc. Scientific observations have not confirmed the popular idea on this subject. ## Swift Handling of Troops

The Canadian national railways recently broke a speed record in the transportation of troops from one ship. The troopship Olympic docked at its berth in the evening, with 1,000 returned soldiers aboard. Eleven special trains were made up to take the soldiers to demobilization points in the city. The first of these special trains left at 7:45 o'clock. The other trains followed at average intervals of 15 minutes. Within three hours all the soldiers were on their way for the interior. The troops averaged 400 men a train and it took 150 cars to handle them.

The Carving of Turkey—Glimpses of the Empire Which Is Abolished by the Peace Treaty

The great stone tower in this photograph is Rumeli Kalesi, overlooking the Bosphorus at Constantinople. It was built in 1452 as a fortification against the Moslem advance on the Sublime Porte. The tower is one of the many picturesque buildings in or about the great city, which under the terms of the peace treaty ceases to be the capital of an empire.

Turkey will be several independent states, under governments supervised by the allies and the United States. Turkey is rich in natural resources, and all the new states will need to make them productive and prosperous in an injection of occidental hustle and a general adoption of western machinery—railroads, manufacturing machinery, motorcars, etc.

Prescriptions May Best Be Filled by Those Who Think They Are Ailing

If people always knew beforehand just what the doctor's prescription would be, most of the time it would be quite unnecessary to consult a doctor.

A patient with a vague and indefinite complaint sought out the late Dr. Weir Mitchell and elaborately described what she thought were the symptoms of imminent collapse. The famous physician heard her out with courteous gravity, wrote a line or two on a bit of paper and then said: "Take this to the drug store across the street and they will fill it for you."

When the ailing hypochondriac showed the paper to the apothecary, he smiled and handed it back. "I'm afraid you'll have to fill this out yourself, madam," he said differentially. "What do you mean?" Then she read what was written. It was simply the Bible verse: "Greater is he that ruleth himself than he that taketh a city."—Exchange.

Grizzly Bear Is Fond of Big Variety of Eatables

The appetite of the grizzly is one of the few drawbacks to his domestication. His tastes are not limited, but he deals in large quantities. In some respects the grizzly is a dainty feeder. He is fond, for instance, of violets, and will eat several pounds if he can find them. He likes rosebuds and will devour almost any sort of bulb. On the other hand, he will eat meat of any age. Apples and turnips are perhaps his favorite delicacies, but he also is fond of honey. Usually, he eats the honey with it. Wasps, yellow jackets, grasshoppers, ants and their eggs, bugs and all sort of grubs are also on his menu. Other delicacies which he enjoys are snakes, rats, mice and rabbits.

Corn Remains What It Was Before Columbus Landed

The early Indians grew flint corn for hominy and flint corn for bread and soups. They invented "succotash," composed of maize and beans, with butter and salt added. We owe to them all of our best recipes for the preparation of corn, not excepting "hockette" and cornbread.

Ship Bunks That Stay Level

A Good Kind of Desert

There is no dessert more wholesome, attractive and well liked than fruit. Muskmelons, watermelons, berries of various kinds in season when grown in one's own garden or purchased at a reasonable price, are wonderful savors of true in dessert making.

When one cannot afford to serve fruit as a full dessert it may be used as a garnish, thus helping out the appearance and flavor as well as the cost of the dessert.

Junket is a most wholesome and delicious dessert and when garnished with a spoonful of sugared, fresh fruit is satisfying and inexpensive.

Plain Junket

Heat to lukewarm temperature a quart of milk, add a junket tablet dissolved in a tablespoonful of cold water, a pinch of salt, and sugar to sweeten to taste. Flavor with any desired flavoring, pour into shallow cups and let stand in a warm room to set. When thick, put on ice to chill and serve with a spoonful of whipped cream and a spoonful of fresh berries well separated, one or both.

Rice With Bananas

Peel and scrape three well-ripened bananas and mash them with a fork until smooth and creamy, adding a few drops of lemon juice. Stir this lightly into one cupful of cooked rice, and serve with cream and sugar.

Velvet Sherbet

Take the juice of three lemons, two cupfuls of sugar or strained honey and one quart of rich milk, freeze as for ice cream. If the honey is not at hand, sugar and water with a little grated citrus may be cooked to a syrup and added. The sherbet keeps better when the syrup is used, as it does not melt so quickly.

Peach Ice Cream

This is a most delicious cream, made from very ripe fruit. Peel, wash and put through a sieve using a pint of pulp, or less will flavor a quart of cream, adding sugar syrup to sweeten and a little lemon juice to accent the peach flavor. Almond extract is often used and well liked in peach ice cream, but with nicely flavored fruit it is not needed.

Apricot Ice Cream

Drain a can of apricots, force through a strainer. To the apricot juice add one and one-half cupfuls of cream, a few grains of salt and a cupful of sugar, then add the apricot pulp and freeze.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

by MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE LOCUSTS' SONG

"Listen," said Mother Meadow Locust to a little Meadow Locust named Millie, "and I will tell you a story."

"That is nice," said Millie politely, and also because she did want to hear a story.

"I am going to tell you that your song must always be soft and sweet, very soft and sweet, and so I am going to send you to the Meadow Locust Family Music Club. Singing is taught there."

"You see, Millie, dear," she continued, "years ago when we sang just like the Katydid family the Fairy Queen was giving a concert one night."

"Locusts," she said to us, "I want some other singers to take parts which are like the Katydids' parts, but a little softer. That will help the whole effect of the singing. It will make it so lovely to have different voices, different sounds, different tones. Then it will be such a beautiful concert, such an exquisite concert. Do you think you could help me, Locusts?"

"Now, of course, we wanted to do everything we could for the Fairy Queen and for her concert. So we had a huge meeting that very afternoon of all the locusts. We put signs around the meadow on all the tall blades of grass and told all the locusts to come to the meeting."

"They arrived at all times, for as soon as they saw notice they came. But some of them had been taking naps or had been off walking and hopping and weren't on the lookout for signs and notices."

"Just there was a huge meeting. On these signs were read and heard of us. 'What can we do?' we asked ourselves and each other. To help the Fairy Queen's concert we surely must, but what will we do?"

"Finally one little Locust, named Larry Locust, spoke up. 'I have an idea,' he said."

"We all crowded around Larry and asked him what his idea was. 'What?' he said. 'If we all practice to sing with a soft song and always remember to keep down our voices so they won't be too loud I think we'll have what the Fairy Queen wants."

"So we practiced and practiced all that afternoon. When evening came we all took our places at the concert—that is—we had it in the early evening."

"We sat in front of the Katydid and all the other creatures sat around. Well, when the Fairy Queen heard us singing softly and sweetly, and when she heard our parts by ourselves, she was delighted."

"Always sing like that," she cried. "Yes, always sing those sweet, low notes of yours."

"We were so pleased and we have always kept to that same kind of singing. The Fairy Queen liked the Katydids—mustn't for a moment think she didn't—but she thought it would be nice if we had our own kind of singing, our own little song, so there'd be the music of the Meadow Locusts, too."

"Wasn't that a good idea of Larry?" Mrs. Locust asked.

"A most marvelous idea," said Millie. "Is that my Uncle Larry?"

"The very one," said Mother Locust. "I must tell you, too, now that the story time is over, a little of the history of the insect family, for we have the history of our people and all peoples, or rather, all insects, in our locusts."

"There is the flying grasshopper, colored like the ground, that is, the color of pebbles and stones. He is safe that way, for enemies don't know him. The time, that he is a grasshopper."

"There is a very distant relation, known as the scorpion. He's an old terror. He goes with some of the insects where it is very, very warm. He really is a nearer relative of the Crab family. I'm glad to say."

"But I think we'll have our lesson continued another day. Just now let us sing and thank the Fairy Queen and dear Larry Locust, who helped to give us a song, like the song of the Katydid family, but with a song all, all our own."

"For the Mother, Little Jack's mother was very fond of flowers, and he delighted in bringing them to her. One day he ran in with a great basket of white roses and violets."

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS

Public Health Nursing.

In the midst of its multifarious war duties the American Red Cross did not neglect its obligations to the civilian population at home. Throughout the conflict it maintained its Bureau of Public Health Nursing, instruction in first aid, home nursing and sanitation, and disaster relief. Particularly in their work for the babies was effort by public health nurses important. The accompanying photograph shows a Red Cross public health nurse instructing a mother in the proper preparation of the baby's diet.

HEALTH INSURANCE MAGAZINE TELLS FACTS ARE GIVEN OF WINSTON FARM

In view of the final discussion of the compulsory health insurance measure, at the close of the meeting of the League of Women Voters held at Wilby's Inn last Friday, and of certain false ideas that seem to have become broadcast, the League of the Medical and Allied Professions of Ulster County, N. Y., have asked that the following facts be published in The Freeman:

Dr. (Not stated whether M. D. or Ph.D.) John B. Andrews, secretary of the American Association for Labor Legislation, who spoke at the meeting on Friday, when asked in the discussion, what became of the final fifth of the $100,000,000 necessary to put through this compulsory health insurance, if the employer paid two-fifths and the employee two-fifths, said would be used for the expense of management, (which would of course come out of the taxpayers.) Obviously the cost to the employers would be added to the price of the manufactured articles to the consumers.

Dr. Andrews stated also that the plan as tried out in England had proven so successful that the practitioners would not think of going back to the former idea of no such compulsory insurance. He did not state how the "people" felt about it, yet this measure is supposed to be entirely for the benefit of the poor unfortunate unable to secure the services of a physician or surgeon.

In 1917, as the result of careful investigation by a commission named by the Illinois legislature to investigate the success of the plan as a health measure looking to the prevention and lessening of disease, the commission gave its report that 6 out of the 8 commissioners were opposed to such a measure as they could not find that it did prevent or lessen disease.

One of the big arguments put forward in favor of the measure is that so many people, especially among the poor have no medical attention or surgical aid when badly needed. Without going into statistics here it is a well-known fact, easily proven, that with the free wards of every hospital, the free dispensaries, where specialists are ticularly seem to delight to give of the best of their service to those so unfortunate as not to be able to pay for such service, and with every right-minded physician and surgeon the country over, donating his services where needed, far and away beyond what any business man would think of contributing from his business, if people do not today have medical or surgical attention, it must be because such attention has not been sought and the case explained. Undoubtedly there are hosts of people lacking such services, but there are hosts of people too ignorant or too prejudiced to secure such attention, and there is no reason under heaven why all of the other reasonable (for who is neither "employee" or "employer") people should be forced to take out health insurance to provide for the nominal few who will not take necessary health precautions and measures.

In order that the public may again be reminded of the objects of the League of the Medical and Allied Professions of Ulster County, N. Y. that organization has further asked The Freeman to publish these objects as found in their constitution, Section 2, which reads:

Section 2.—The objects of this society are:

1. The support of just public health legislation.
2. The prevention of legislation detrimental to the public health and all other pernicious legislation affecting adversely the professions allied in this society.
3. The co-operation with other civic bodies for public betterment.
4. The investigation of, and the dissemination of information pertaining to, medico-economic questions.

Illustrated Article Appears in Quernsey Breeder's Journal Concerning Stock Owned by James O. Winston.

In the issue of September 15 of the Quernsey Breeder's Journal, a paper devoted to the advancement of Quernsey cattle, appears a four page article describing the stock farm of James O. Winston at Saugerties. The article has a number of illustrations of the pure bred cattle, pictures of the farm house and buildings and a big four page insert picture of the farm.

The article gives the pedigree of the blooded cattle which Mr. Winston owns and in regard to the farm says:

"Just out of Saugerties, N. Y., on the Hudson river, at the foothills of the Catskill mountains, is located one of the largest and best kept stock and dairy farms in the Hudson river valley, owned by James O. Winston, and under the direct management of R. N. Ingersoll. Mr. Winston is a great lover of livestock, which one would quickly surmise upon seeing the excellent herd of pure bred Quernsey cattle that he has built up within the last three years.

"Saugerties farms consists of about 800 acres of beautiful country 200 of which is under cultivation. Beside the Quernsey cattle, twenty-nine thoroughbreds are kept on the place. A flock of twelve hundred White Leghorns, hens, grace a hillside along with forty pure bred Hampshire Down Sheep, and thirty Berkshire pigs. The Quernsey herd consists of forty-five head of cattle, twenty-three of which are milking cows.

"The first cattle were purchased at the Florham Farm sale in 1916 and consists of Kitty Clyde of Paxtang 40921, Lady Berna 57028; Imp. Romana 48th 52505, Princess May Rose 58306, Florham Sunshine 58420, Beldame 4th 31151; Imp. Violet of la Crouette 48373, May Violet 56563, Imp. Treginning Dairy-maid 59722; Florham Melody 62516."

A list of the present high bred cattle which Mr. Winston has on the farm is published with a number of pictures of the handsome pure breeds.

It is a rare move to push a second charge against a prisoner before his term is up. As Foote has obtained a change of venue from Dutchess to Putnam county he will be tried in Carmel on October 27. District Attorney Raymond Aldrich of Poughkeepsie will prosecute the case, aided by County Judge J. Bennett Southard and District Attorney Peter A. Anderson of Putnam county. Foote will be taken out of Sing Sing on a writ of habeas corpus during the trial. One of his partners, Harold Sherill, is in Sing Sing with him and the other, rich Morton Atwater, is in Putnam county jail.

POLICE ASK THE PUBLIC TO HELP

The police department is desirous of the co-operation of the public in making the big parade welcome home day a success. No automobiles will be allowed to park along the line of march, but may use the side streets, except Abel street and East O'Reilly street, which must be kept open for the fire trucks if needed. The public is also requested to remain on the sidewalks and not crowd out into the street. There will be plenty of room and by remaining on the walks danger of accidents will be greatly eliminated. The public has co-operated in the past and undoubtedly will do so Wednesday. In addition to the regular police force the department will have a number of other men on duty. There will be about fifty men in uniform that day to look after traffic and help make the day a success.

CHINESE FARMS ARE TINY AFFAIRS

Result of Division At Farmer's Death Makes Them Like American Chicken Yard.

The farmer of China is not the simple agricultural worker that he seems. Of grim necessity he has several bows to his string. Chinese farms are very tiny affairs, for the most part due to the fact that on the farmer's death the ground which he owned is divided up between his sons share and share alike. Then in turn it is again subdivided among the sons' sons and so on for generations.

The result is that the present day farm is not much bigger than an American chicken yard, yet the farmer must try to make enough from it to keep himself and his large family until next harvest time. There is no rotation of crops. Rice is the one staple crop wherever it can be grown. Potatoes, beans, turnips, cucumbers, etc., are grown as a side line, so to speak. All farmers suffer when the rainfall is insufficient, but the tiller of the small-sized farm cannot make a living under the best of conditions. In the winter time and between crops he must find other occupations to add to his slender income from his farm.

It is in these peregrinations from his home, especially when he goes to the cities in the winter time to become a coolie or "man who hires his strength," that the Christian missionaries come in contact with the Chinese farmer.

The farmers as a class have hardly come under the missionaries' influence as all The Episcopal Church, through its Nation-Wide Campaign to expand its various educational, medical, humanitarian and evangelical activities at home and abroad, hopes to reach the farmers in China to a greater extent than has been possible in the past. It can do this not on the farms, but when the farmers seek other temporary jobs.

Aside from doing coolies' work, the heavy lifting and carrying incidental to city life farmers, between planting and harvesting seasons, may often be found acting as sailors on the junks that ply on China's innumerable rivers—and exceedingly good sailors they are said to make—or as fishermen off the coasts and on the rivers. Many of them act as sedan chair carriers. They are strong and sure-footed and are in favor among those who have much traveling to do in the mountains in the cities they often become ricksha runners.

It frequently happens that all the male members of a farmer's household leave practically all of the farm management to the women folk and go into any employment they can find where they can make a few cash a day to help keep the home together. A cash is equivalent to about one-tenth of a cent, American money.

In appearance the Chinese farmer is lean, lank, undernourished, his hands and knuckles gnarled and twisted out of shape by hard, unrelenting toil bent a little forward, with a slight list to the left due to his having to do all his own carrying. Carts and beasts of burdens are as far beyond the reach of the average farmer of China as a private railroad to market would be to the American farmer.

BESKIN UNDER FIRE.

Mayor of Beacon Asked to Resign—Letter Sent to Gov. Smith.

Resolutions calling upon Governor Smith to take formal cognizance of the alleged "abuse of his powers" by Mayor Samuel Beskin of Beacon, and demanding of the mayor that he resign his office, "which he has disgraced," were adopted at Columbia Institute on Sunday afternoon when a big mass meeting was held by the striking men and women.

Formal charges are entered with the governor in a night letter which claims that Mr. Beskin abused his powers by misrepresenting to the governor the actual situation in Beacon, thereby bringing to the city members of the state constabulary. Further, it is alleged, Mayor Beskin has been in continuous conference with representatives of the employers thereby acting to "break" the strike.

THE FREEMAN ON WEDNESDAY

Advertisers are Asked to Co-operate in Getting Out a Paper and at the Same Time Giving Employees a Holiday.

Wednesday is to be an unofficial holiday in Kingston and The Freeman has planned to observe it so far as possible and still publish a paper that will contain the important news of the day. In order to do this it will be necessary for advertisers to get their copy in one day ahead. As few advertisers will have any copy for Tuesday's paper, this will be easy—all they have to do is just put their schedule 24 hours ahead and send in copy for Wednesday's advertising on Tuesday morning. Eight employees of The Freeman who will march in the parade of veterans will not do any work on Wednesday. Other employees will work in the early forenoon until the parade starts. Then they will either view the parade or take part in it, as they choose, returning to work at 1 o'clock in order to get the paper out, which will be done as early as possible, after which they will again take part in the festivities of the day. Of course all employees of The Freeman will draw a full day's pay, the same as if they worked as usual.

Another Monkey Found.

The escaped monkey from the Murphy Show has been enjoying freedom in eastern Dutchess county, and one of them was captured recently by Richard Odell in Mills' orchard between America and America Union. There were three monkeys in the party that descended the circus, and two of them were caught in Poughkeepsie. One of them escaped a second time, however. Everybody in the Harlem valley is on the lookout for the third monkey and there is even rivalry as to who shall be the one to capture the remaining monkey.

SAUGERTIES

Saugerties Sept. 26.—Dr. Diehl, since his return from army service, and resumed practice, has been very busy. His old friends are glad to have him back again.

The village trustees intend to reconstruct the road leading to the steamboat dock. Crushed stone with gas house tar for a binder will be used.

Main and Market streets are being temporarily repaired. It is expected the plans for the improvement of these streets by concrete will be put before the people very soon.

William Washburn and Phoebe Ennis were married at the Baptist parsonage by Rev. Thomas Sherwood last Wednesday.

The post office will be moved into its new quarters in the Lashoe building shortly.

The steamboat Ida and Ulster carry heavy cargoes of paper and fruit each trip.

The Trinity Social Club gave a Welcome Home reception to Miss Jones and Miss Marston, two of their members, last Friday night.

Politics are warming up and the friends of Supervisor Frutcher are predicting his re-election by the largest majority ever. The so-called insurgency in the Republican party was able to muster only about 100 votes in the primary and some of these were Democrats. It is also predicted that Sadler Feltus will win out for superintendent of highways.

Ulster Lodge, No. 132, F. and A. M. have presented Past Master Charles S. Wilbur with a beautiful District Deputy Grand Master's apron. The speech of presentation was made by Joseph W. Frenkel at the lodge meeting last Wednesday night, when the third degree was worked. Mr. Wilbur is deputy for Ulster and Greene and is the first member of Ulster Lodge to have the honor, although the lodge is over 71 years old.

Camels win you on their quality!

Any way you consider Camels—quality, blend, mellowness, body and satisfaction—they are made to absolutely meet your taste as no other cigarette ever did, or could!

You have only to smoke some Camels to prove they are a cigarette revelation—the most delightful cigarettes you ever puffed on!

Understand this: Camels are an expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos. The unusual Camel blend gives smokers mildness and smoothness never before believed possible in cigarettes.

Yet, Camels have all the body the most exacting smoker can ask.

Camel CIGARETTES

You will prefer this expert Camel blend to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

Camels flavor is really fascinating! And, so refreshing that no matter how liberally you smoke, Camels will not tire your taste!

Camels are free from any unpleasant cigarette odor, too!

So great is our confidence that Camels will exceed your cigarette desires that we ask you to put them in comparison with any cigarette in the world at any price!

MOVIES TO SHOW CARELESS AMERICA

Will Be One of the Features at Annual Convention of New York State Automobile Club.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 30.—A banquet and dance that will prove to be one of the leading social events of the Albany fall season, and interesting moving pictures will be features of the sixteenth annual convention of the New York State Automobile Association at the Ten Eyck hotel, Monday and Tuesday, October 6 and 7.

The banquet will take place in the ball room, on the 16th floor, of the Ten Eyck, on Monday evening at 7:30 and will be attended by 381 men and women which includes, automobiles from all parts of the state. Former Governor Martin H. Glynn will be the toastmaster and Governor Smith will be the guest of honor. The other speakers include Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet, Judge M. Bruce Cobb, New York city traffic court and State Comptroller Eugene M. Travis. Those who do not secure places at the banquet will be entertained at the theatre by the Albany Automobile Club.

A committee of the leading society women in Albany will receive and entertain the women in the parties of delegates. Mrs. Alfred E. Smith, wife of the governor is the honorary chairman and among the society events will be a reception at the executive mansion and a motor trip through the Helderberg mountains.

Moving pictures "Careless America" and "Easy Money" will be presented during the business sessions. The first will illustrate the careless and reckless driving that results in automobile accidents and the second will emphasize the ease with which thieves now steal and get away with automobiles. These two subjects will be discussed and acted upon at the convention. It has been brought out that deaths from automobile accidents in this state have steadily increased year after year.

Carelessness and incompetent operation of automobiles undoubtedly result in these accidents and for that reason the State Automobile Association will take action on a proposed law to extend over the entire state to license all persons who operate an automobile whether owner or chauffeur or others. Such a law became effective in New York city July 1st, last.

The association is also impressed with the need of legislation to put a stop to the alarming increase in automobile thefts and several proposed measures will be discussed at the convention to remedy the situation as much as possible. Statistics show that in 18 cities during 1918 the number of automobiles stolen was 22,232 of which 17,291 were recovered, leaving a loss of 22 per cent, while official figures show that this number has been greatly exceeded already for 1919 and seems to increase daily.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS HAVE BIG WORK

Religious Education May Be Undertaken to Suppress Bolshevism. Claims Director of Field Promotion.

During the war the American Sunday schools suffered a loss in membership of about 1,000,000, and careful surveys show that the delinquency of youth has rapidly increased, according to W. C. Pearce, director of field promotion of the New York State Interdenominational Sunday school campaign for funds, which will extend from October 6 to 13.

Mr. Pearce sounds a warning of the necessity for more money to back the Sunday schools so that increased religious educational work may be undertaken to help suppress Bolshevism. He points out that in one of our large cities announcement has been made of plans for propagating 300 Bolshevik Sunday schools, and that a catechism has been printed which is evidently for distribution throughout America.

"This propaganda is specially to reach the children of our foreign population," Mr. Pearce insists, and he urges the necessity of American people taking advantage of the wonderful chances afforded by the war reconstruction period to extend church work.

Mr. Pearce, who comes from Chicago, was a successful lawyer before he took up Sunday school work, and now he is field superintendent of the International Sunday school association, in entire charge of the work in North America. In the course of a year Mr. Pearce travels between 40,000 and 50,000 miles.

"The field for increased and improved Sunday school work the world over is ready," Mr. Pearce says. "During this era of transition in the governments of the world unusual opportunity is afforded the church to extend Christian ideals and Christian civilization to the uttermost parts of the earth."

"This of course requires an enlarged Sunday school program for the state, as well as in the international and world fields."

"In the coming era of universal democracy the governments will rest upon the will of the people. If the governments are to be permanent and the liberty and happiness of the people are to be safeguarded, the childhood and youth of those democracies must be taught the highest ideals of Christian civilization and must be given the spiritual nurture which will make good citizens of them."

"The Sunday school work in all parts of the world needs to be improved and extended if the work for the children and youth is to be properly done. Now as always, the early years are the important ones, and while we are planting colleges and hospitals in all parts of the world and introducing public schools for intellectual training, we must parallel those efforts with provision for the religious education of the youth."

"We are also compelled to remember that the eyes of the world are upon us today as never before. If the work of religious education in America is well done, it will not only hold our nation steadfast to the highest Christian ideals, but will be the best guarantee of extending these ideals throughout the world."

"Then we have 10,000,000 negroes in the United States who need to be reached with an adequate Sunday school program. Very much has been done in this direction, but at the same time there is only one negro giving his entire time to the Sunday school association work amongst his people. The field is ripe in each one of the fourteen states where the majority of negroes live."

"The time has come to properly inaugurate an adequate religious program in all of our large cities. Men of high attainments must be called to give their full time to religious education in these centers. A careful survey of some of our large cities reveals the fact that the population is increasing much more rapidly than is the Sunday school and church attendance."

"At the same time rural fields must be adequately served and effectively led into a program of religious education suited to this particular day."

By this little ad. he had started something. The publicity of Chamberlin's Weather Strips by this advertisement was greater than any other.

In as much as the ad caused so much disturbance, Mr. Wilson changed it and told in his next advertisement all about the true merits of CHAMBERLIN'S METAL WEATHER STRIPS.

Over ten million windows are now equipped with Chamberlin Weather Strips. They are better than storm sashes. They stop rattling windows; they make even temperature in every room; they save 20 Per Cent. in fuel; and tear. ## SYKES RECITAL PLEASES AUDIENCE

Those who attended the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer last night were delighted with the organ recital given by Harry A. Sykes, Fellow of the American Guild of Organists, and organist and choirmaster at Trinity Lutheran Church, Norristown, Pa. Mr. Sykes clearly demonstrated his artistic ability and his mastery of organ technique.

His audience listened with rapt attention as he rendered Gullmunt's "Grand Choeur in D," Johnston's "Evensong" and Bach's "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor." His rendition of "In Fairyland" by R. S. Stoughton and "Will O' the Wisp," a fantastic little piece by Gordon Balch Nevill were also pleasing. Mr. Sykes opened his recital with the Star Spangled Banner.

The second part of the program was inscribed to Mr. Sykes by the by Joseph Bonnet, which was followed by a charming little piece, "At Evening," by R. Kinder. This piece was inscribed to Mr. Sykes by the composer. Another clever selection played was "Christmas in Sicily" by Pietro A. Von. This piece interpreted a Christmas in Sicily. The chiming of the church bells peal out intermingled with the music of the street musicians. The next selection was Mr. Von's "Primitive Organ." It was in Mr. Sykes's last selection, if in no other that he brought out his wonderful accomplishments as an organist. This piece was the "First Concert Study" also written by Mr. Von. In this the pedal technique of the artist was wonderful and astounding.

Mr. Sykes will next play in Syracuse on the organ of the Baptist Church, conceded to be the best organ in the country.

JACKIES WILL BE IN THE PARADE

Mayor Canfield received a telegram last night from Franklin D. Roosevelt, first assistant secretary of the navy, that three destroyers would arrive at Kingston this afternoon to remain here until after the celebration tomorrow. No other city along the Hudson above New York has been honored at any welcome celebration by such a naval display.

One or more of the destroyers will be open for public inspection tomorrow morning at Kingston Point Park between 9 and 10 o'clock. During that time Muller's band will give a concert at the point. At 10 o'clock, the officers of the naval boats and over one hundred Jackies will march from the Point, headed by Mayor Canfield and the band, to the Strand, where they will form in the parade.

These destroyers are well worth viewing. They all served during the war. They are about 325 feet long, carry four inch guns and have turbine engines. They can average 35 knots an hour. These ships rendered service during the war in doing convoy duty and in planting mines. Last week Mayor Canfield, John E. Mahar, Samuel M. Watts and D. G. Atkins went to Poughkeepsie and conferred with Secretary Roosevelt and succeeded in making the arrangements to have these boats for the celebration.

It is not known as yet whether Secretary Roosevelt can come. He expressed a desire to the committee to be present and it will depend whether he can drop his duties at Washington at midnight to get here tomorrow.

GREAT BRITAIN 24 UNITED STATES 4

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, Sept. 20.—Great Britain would have as many as 24 votes and the United States but four in the international labor organization proposed under the peace treaty. Senator Fall, Republican, New Mexico, member of the senate foreign relations committee, declared this afternoon in a formal statement.

For that reason alone, Fall added, he would offer a motion in the senate to strike from the treaty the labor addendum providing for the organization and the participation of the United States in it.

Senators Thomas, Colorado, and Hoke Smith, Georgia, Democrats, had both previously expressed opposition to the labor addendum and both support Fall's motion. Thomas has announced that he would offer textual amendments to the addendum, if it were permitted to remain in the treaty.

Still Drawing Crowds. Crowds continue to hear Evangelist Arnold at the Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church. The evangelist preached a powerful sermon last night on "The Necessity of Letting God Reign in Our Hearts." The evangelist sang several beautiful hymns. He will preach a special sermon tonight and sing some selections by request. All are invited to these meetings.

DECORATIONS AT THE CITY HALL

The city hall and its grounds have been beautifully decorated. The city hall itself is resplendent with flags and bunting. In front of the hall eight beautiful columns have been erected along the wall which are connected with pennants and electric lights. With the Victory Arch stretching across the street, it presents a beautiful and attractive view. Probably no city can boast of having a civic center as attractive at any of the welcoming celebrations.

The grandstand has been erected by the city for the state, county and city officials, the clergymen and committee and the guests. When filled with people Wednesday this will add much to the scene. All persons who have tickets for the grandstand are requested to bring a flag to wave at proper times.

A small grandstand has also been erected on the high school grounds for the children of the Industrial Home. The city band will march the children over at ten o'clock. The band will then remain at the city hall and render a concert there until the parade arrives.

HOPE OF WETNESS IS NOT VERIFIED

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, Sept. 20.—Insistent reports that President Wilson will soon lift wartime prohibition by proclaiming the army demobilized, while arousing considerable interest in official circles this afternoon, were without verification.

At both the White House and the department of justice officials stated that the situation was unchanged, and that no hint as to when any such action would be taken had been given.

It was pointed out that the latest figures issued from the war department showed that the emergency army was ninety per cent demobilized. At the same time it was pointed out that Attorney General Palmer has let it be known that it is his informal opinion that no matter what the demobilization figures may indicate, demobilization cannot be technically completed until the treaty has been ratified and the proclamation of peace issued.

Changed to Rockland County.

Justice Budd has just granted an order changing the place of trial of an automobile accident case brought by Julius and Isadore Weintraub against Carl A. Kallbaum, a lawyer of Nanuet, Rockland county. This action grew out of a collision near Port Jervis, was first brought in the city court, and was there dismissed with costs, on motion of the defendant. A new action was immediately begun in the supreme court, and this has now been removed from Ulster county to Rockland county on motion of Arthur C. Corns, defendant's attorney. Benjamin Canfield and Brainerd represented the plaintiffs.

Foundry Fire Tuesday.

About 7 o'clock Monday evening an alarm of fire was rung in street box No. 112. The fire was caused by the lighting of a hot iron against a wooden support at the Murphy & Howell foundry near Flatbush square, causing considerable smoke. There was no damage sustained.

Open House at 1244.

The local Elks' lodge will participate in the welcome home parade, and all members are requested to meet at the Elks' club at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. From 3 o'clock in the afternoon the Elks will hold "open house" at their club for all soldiers, sailors and marines.

MYSTERY OF MISSING STAR.

Some One Has Cut One From Plumbers' Union Service Flag.

In the rooms of the board of health at the city hall hangs the charter of the local plumbers' union, and under it is draped a service flag containing three blue stars. At least three were three stars once upon a time but within the past few days some one has clipped one of the stars from the flag leaving only the vacant space. The mystery of the missing star is puzzling all who have the service flag and none of the board members asked about the matter seemed to know or could advance a reason for the cutting out of the star.

STRIKE PROBE
IN PITTSBURGH

Senate Committee Will Hold Meeting Next Friday at the Center of the Steel Strike.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The senate will carry its investigation of the steel strike directly into the trouble-ridden Pittsburgh district next Friday.

Senator William S. Kenyon, chairman of the education and labor committee of the senate, announced today that unless the league of nations situation in the senate interferes, his committee which is conducting the investigation of the strike, will re-open its investigation Friday in Pittsburgh, and continue it for three days, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

While Senator Kenyon announced that the labor investigators would visit "the Pittsburgh district," the committee undoubtedly will carry its investigation into such surrounding steel centers as McKeesport and other towns where John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the steel strikers' national committee, charged there had been "terrorism" against the strikers by the Pennsylvania state constabulary and the steel mill guards.

Senator Kenyon's announcement followed closely the receipt of an invitation to the committee to come to Pittsburgh from the McKeesport chamber of commerce, which stated that "persons" had been cast against that city by the steel strikers.

The little flower children, Miss Josephine Pratt of Highland and Lawrence Jan Osterhoudt of New Palz, carried beautiful rose baskets from which they scattered the bridal pathway with flower petals.

The groom was attended by Roy Denniston.

The ushers were Jay LeFevre, brother of the bride, Howard Ostertrander of Port Washington, Theodore Baker of Marlborough and Edward Carpenter of the same place and Jerome LeFevre of New Palz.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast and reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The reception room and parlors were very artistically decorated with lavender and pink asters and the library with wild flowers. Mollot's orchestra of Kingston played for the reception.

There was a lovely display of wedding gifts which consisted of cut glass, silver, china, mahogany furniture and money.

Mr. and Mrs. Denniston will make their home in New Palz and will occupy the pretty bungalow which is now under construction and which adjoins Mr. LeFevre's property.

The bride is a graduate of Wells College. The groom is the manager of the Chintondale branch of the A. P. LeFevre coal and lumber business.

Both the bride and groom are very popular with the younger social set in this village and have the good wishes of their host of friends.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Starbuck, of Cleveland, O.; Miss Irene Dayton, of New York; Dr. W. D. Bois Vanderlin, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Ridgewood, N. ## MAY HOLD LYNK IN SMITH CASE

Harry Lynk, who is in jail serving a ten days' sentence which expires October 3d, having been sent by Justice of the Peace W. M. Childer of Saugerties, who found him guilty of public intoxication, may be charged with a more serious crime at the expiration of his term. He was arrested by State Troopers at Saugerties on September 22d, on the technical charge of public intoxication. Two days later he was sent to jail for the ten days because he told conflicting stories about the mysterious drowning of Wilby Smith of Tivoli, early on Sunday morning, September 21st, at Glasco.

Lynk also lives at Tivoli, is 42 years of age, and it is said was once before a companion to a man who was drowned in the Hudson river in the same neighborhood. On Sunday the body of Wilbur Smith was found on Gruger's Island and it being in Dutchess county, District Attorney Raymond E. Aldrich and Deputy Sheriff Elmer J. Conklin went from Poughkeepsie to investigate. It was at first thought that Smith had been drowned, as Lynk had said that his companion had jumped off the dock and also that he had fallen from a boat. Another story was that Smith had been beaten up by a gang on the west shore of the river and his body thrown in the river. An autopsy, however, shows that Smith's back is broken and his head bruised. District Attorney Traver is investigating the matter as are the State Troopers.

SYMPATHY STRIKE NEXT IN BRITAIN

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Sept. 30.—The next twenty-four hours will probably be the most critical in Great Britain's industrial history," declared J. H. Thomas, executive secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, in a speech at Clapham.

After stating that the railwaymen will not continue to refuse offers from other unions to go on sympathy strikes, Thomas continued:

"This action will force a show down.

"Sympathy strikes would greatly increase the government's problem of feeding and heightening the danger between the classes.

"If labor's own forecasts prevail," said Thomas, "250,000 transport workers and 300,000 coal miners will likely join the national strike."

The electricians have also offered to go out in sympathy, Thomas added.

"A Daylo would have prevented that!"

"—if you'd need a Daylo instead of a match to find that trouble under the hood, this wouldn't have happened!"

Wherever there is gasoline or anything else inflammable—in the garage, the house, the factory or on the farm—a flame light spells danger, but Daylo means safety. Its strong light goes everywhere safely.

October 4 to 11 is Daylo Safety First Week, in honor of National Fire and Accident Prevention Day, October 9. Prepare for it now by getting the Daylo you need to prevent avoidable fires. Watch for the dealers' windows showing the Daylo "Safety First" Medal Design.
